This catalogue is printed and bound by pupils of the Practical Arts School (grades seven and eight) and normal students. The cover design is by a normal school senior, Wilbur A. Hart. The hand coloring of the cover and of the illustrations is by pupils above grade four and by normal students. There is very little difference in the quality of this work as done by pupils in the grades and by normal students.

EQUIPMENT

THE Fitchburg State Normal School was opened in 1895 with four teachers and forty-six pupils in a rented building. In 1914 there are thirty teachers, two hundred and eight-two normal students, and seven hundred children, with buildings and grounds worth nearly half a million dollars.

The school has graduated seven hundred and ninety from the Elementary Course, two hundred and fifteen from the Advanced Course, nineteen from the Kindergarten Course, one hundred and eighty three from the one year courses, sixteen from the Practical Arts Course for young men, and six from special two year courses.

Fitchburg, Mass., is a city of nearly forty thousand inhabitants, beautifully situated among the hills between Mt. Monadnock and Mt. Wachusett. Its pure air and water and excellent drainage rank it among the most healthful of New England cities. It has a fine public library and art museum.

The normal school grounds are over fifteen acres in extent, including an athletic field, tennis courts, and school gardens. The work is carried on in eight buildings.

Normal Hall, the main building, contains forty rooms, including a gymnasium with dressing rooms and shower baths, and a study hall.

In Miller Hall, the boarding hall, the rooms are arranged in suites, heated by steam and lighted by electricity. A night watchman is employed. The new dormitory, opened in September, 1913, contains single rooms and rooms for two. To secure room, either in Miller Hall or in the new dormitory, an early application is necessary. Rooms are reserved in order of application upon deposit of four dollars with the clerk of the school. No room will be reserved until this deposit is made, which will be credited for the first week's board in the fall, but will not be refunded in case a student decides not to enter. No room will be held for a student after the opening of the school in the fall for longer than two weeks, for which payment must be made in advance.

The Edgerly School is a twelve-room building for grades one to six and is used for observation and practice.

The Practical Arts School is a building for grades seven and eight, containing twelve school-rooms and various shops. In this building is the Assembly Hall, seating seven hundred. It is provided with a large stage and dressing rooms, and equipped for moving pictures.

The Day Street School is a twelve-room building for grades one to six.

The Highland Avenue School is a four-room building for grades one to three.

The reference library contains nearly eight thousand volumes, besides many reports and text-books. The leading periodicals are found in the reading room.

The Hastings greenhouse, one of the finest in the state, is now available for the use of students in connection with various forms of agricultural work.

In June, 1906, an alumni loan fund was founded. This is increased yearly by contributions from the alumni. Subscriptions from others also will be gladly received. To students needing help, amounts not exceeding one hundred dollars annually will be loaned, such amounts to be repaid with interest after graduation.

Tuition is free to all residents of Massachusetts. Non-residents of the State are required to pay at the beginning of each half-year session the sum of twenty-five dollars.

Season tickets, at greatly reduced rates, may be obtained from any of the railroads entering Fitchburg.

State aid to a limited extent may be granted to students, after they have been in attendance for at least one term. Applications for this aid are to be made to the principal in writing, ac-accompanied by a certificate from a person competent to testify, stating that the applicant needs the aid. Such aid is not furnished pupils whose homes are in Fitchburg, nor to students from outside the state.

Employment can usually be found by those who desire to earn part of their expenses. There is also opportunity for work in the dormitory whereby a number of young women earn all of their expenses by spending three years on the two years' course.

For catalogues, specimen examination questions for admission, and such additional information as may be sought, address the principal at Fitchburg.

COURSES

ORMAL students are granted diplomas for the following regular courses:

The Kindergarten Course of two years. In addition to regular requirements for admission the candidate should be able to play the piano and to sing.

The Elementary Course of two years. This course fits for teaching in the grades below the high school, particularly in grades one to six.

The Kindergarten-Primary Course of two or three years. This fits for kindergarten or primary grades. There is a constant demand for primary teachers who have had kindergarten training.

The course for Grammar Teachers. This is a four years' course, one year of which is spent in teaching on salary. It is open to both sexes.

The Practical Arts Course of two years. This is open only to young men. It fits teachers for manual training and various forms of industrial work.

Normal students are granted certificates for each of the following courses:

The One Year Course for Teachers. Those who bring satisfactory evidence of successful work in teaching are admitted to this course without examination.

The One Year Course for College Graduates and others of maturity and experience. No examination is required.

The Special Music Course of one or two years for those intending to become supervisors of music.

Concerts, recitals, plays, and lectures occur at frequent intervals, and are usually free to all normal students. At the assembly brief addresses are given by members of the faculty and by visitors to the school. The old-fashioned "speaking of pieces" often forms a part of the exercises.

A booklet in regard to the social life at the school may be had upon application.

The schools of observation and practice offer a kindergarten course of two years for children at least three and one half years old, who are admitted in order of application; a general course for the first six grades; and differentiated courses in grades seven and eight, as follows:

ADMISSION

CANDIDATES for admission to a Massachusetts State Normal School must have attained the age of 17 years, if young men, and 16 years, if young women; must be free from diseases or infirmities which would unfit them for the office of teacher; and must present certificates of good moral character. They must also submit detailed records of scholarship from the principal of the high school, or other school in which preparation has been made, showing the amount of time given to individual subjects and the grades therein, and such additional evidence of qualifications for the calling of a teacher as the Board of Education may require.

A candidate for admission as a regular student to a general course must present a diploma of graduation from a high school or its equivalent, and in addition, must offer satisfactory evidence of preparation in the subjects listed under "A," "B" and "C" amounting to 14 units, 10 of which units, however, must be in subjects given under "A" and "B," secured either by examination or certification. A unit represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately one quarter of a full year's work.

A. Prescribed subjects—Three units.

- (1) English literature and composition . . . . . 3 units.

B. Elective subjects—At least 7 units from the following subjects:

- (2) Algebra . . . . . 1 unit

(4) History* . . . . . 1 or 2 units
(5) Latin . . . . . 2 to 4 units
(6) French . . . . . 2 or 3 units
(7) German . . . . . 2 or 3 units
(8) Drawing† . . . . . 1 unit

- (19) Bookkeeping . . . . . 1 unit

* History includes: Ancient; Mediæval and Modern; English; American.

† Half units in these subjects will also be accepted.

For the present, the topics included within the foregoing subjects will be such as are usually accepted by Massachusetts colleges for entrance. The outlines submitted by the College Entrance Examination Board (Sub-station 84, New York City) will be found suggestive by high schools.

C. Additional subjects—At least 4 units from any of the foregoing subjects, or from other subjects approved by the secondary schools towards the diploma of graduation of the applicant. Work in any subject approved for graduation, in addition to that for which credit is secured by examination or certification may count towards these 4 units.

Examinations—Each applicant for admission, unless exempted by the provisions of the following sections: must pass entrance examination in the subjects as required under “A” and “B.” Examinations in these subjects will be held in June and September of each year. Candidates applying for admission by examination must present credentials or certificates from their schools to cover the requirements under “C,” and will not be given examinations in these subjects.

Division of examinations—Candidates for admission to the normal schools may take all of the examinations at once, or divide them between June and September. If the examinations are divided, the candidate will receive no credit for the first examination, unless he secures by examination or certification a total of at least 5 of the 10 units required. Examinations cannot be divided between different years.

Admission on certificates—Candidates from public high schools which are on the certificate list of the New England College Entrance Certificate Board may be exempted by the principal of the normal school from examination in any of the subjects under “A” and “B” in which the principal of the high school shall certify that the applicant, in accordance with the practice of the high school, is entitled to certification to a college in the New England College Entrance Certificate Board. Candidates from public high schools approved for this purpose by the Board of Education may be exempted by the principal of the normal school from examination in any subjects under “A” and “B” in which the applicant has a record of B, or 80 per cent., in the last year in which such subject has been pursued, and when the principal of the high school states that the work of the applicant entitles him to certification. Credits secured by any candidate from the Board of Regents of the State of New York, or for admission to any college in the New England College Entrance Certificate Board, either by examination or certification, or in the examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board, shall be accepted towards the total of 10 units under “A” and “B.” In addition to units granted by certification candidates must present credentials for subjects under “C.”

Admission as special students—Graduates of normal schools and colleges and persons with satisfactory experience in teaching may be admitted as special students to all courses, under such regulations as the Board may prescribe. Applicants with satisfactory teaching experience may be admitted to the one year’s course without examination or other requirements.

Admission to special courses—Persons possessing qualifications for the pursuit of work offered in special courses may be admitted as special students under such regulations as the Board may prescribe.
